PORTLAND, OREGON, THE ROSE CITY

Portland, the largest city in Oregon, is one of the most beautiful cities in all America. Situated at the confluence of the beautiful Willamette and the mighty Columbia Rivers, surrounded by timbered hills, with half a dozen mountain peaks in sight on clear days, the term "the city beautiful," so often overworked, truly applies in the case of Portland.

The city is the center of and the gravitating point to some of the most inspiring scenery the North American continent affords. Nature has painted canvasses more colorful, but none more perfect in blending, none more harmonious in composition. A wonderfully mild climate is hers. It is a land of temperate winds from the ocean, which serve to bring forth all the beauties of her forests, all the magnificence of her flowers. "Portland, the Rose City," is an appellation well deserved; the "summer capital of the land of outdoors." Under the combined excellence of soil and climate, the most perfect blooms of this queen of all flowers are produced literally by the millions. Miles upon miles of rose hedges remain in bloom from May until November, and roses on the Christmas dinner table are not an unusual sight. Portland's annual Rose Festival is one of the great American outdoor festivities. It attracts tourists and others from all portions of the United States. It is the pride and joy of her people.

Portland is a city of heights. From Council Crest, the highest point in the city, with an elevation of twelve hundred feet, and from several less eminent spots, may be had some of the most inspiring views in the world. From the Crest the city spreads out like a huge canvas, affording magnificent views of the Columbia and Willamette Rivers. From this eminence the eye may scan a region of three thousand square miles, and on especially clear days a much larger vista is obtainable. Off to the east is wonderful Mt. Hood, whose snowcapped peak stands forth in an everchanging glory. Swinging around the horizon one may see Mt. Adams, Mt. St. Helens, Mt. Jefferson, and far to the north, on very clear days, looms Mt. Rainier. Beyond the city are beautiful fields and forests. No other American city, it is said, offers such an inspiring view.

COLUMBIA BEACH

Columbia Beach is located on an island in the Columbia River, between the Oregon shore and the City of Vancouver, Wash. The distance from Portland is seven miles over the Interstate Highway, which runs directly to the Beach. The camping facilities are of the very best, especially for tourists, being electrically lighted, piped for gas for cooking, and facing on the Columbia River. Bathing during the summer months is a popular pastime, as many as five thousand having been in the water at this Beach at one time. The Beach has numerous amusement devices, which usually go with a park of this kind, also dancing every evening, including Sunday afternoon and night. The dance floor is one of the largest in the United States, and the music is always the very best, with courteous attendants. The park can be easily reached, and in a short time, by taking a Vancouver car, or by automobile. (See map on opposite page.)

Columbia River Highway (America's Premier Scenic Asset). Columbia River Highway, following the shore of the Columbia River, is rightfully acclaimed the most remarkable highway in the world. The majestic scenery along the Columbia into the Columbia Gorge, past bewitching waterfalls, along the bluffs of the Cascades, with an ever changing panorama of exquisite and inspiring scenery, is commanding the attention of the entire world. Almost, if indeed not equally interesting and remarkable, are the extraordinary engineering feats that have been accomplished in the construction of this highway. It is a paved highway on a five per cent grade (and this too, notwithstanding the fact that the road ascends along the precipitous bluffs overhanging the river) through the heretofore inaccessible Columbia River Gorge. Cliffs and mountains, waterfalls and cataracts, valleys and forests, broad marine views, color and form, shore and sky, earth and water, commingle in a panorama of scenic grandeur. No citizen, and most assuredly no visitor, should miss this wonderful trip. It has no equal in America and nothing superior in Europe. The Columbia River Highway is paved 100 miles east from Portland, paralleling the Columbia (the Oregon river of olden day). It is carved, in most part, from the sides of mountains, and in many places it hangs on the cliffs hundreds of feet above the river. At Crown Point the highway is 750 feet above the river, and directly above Rooster Rock. From this point a majestic view may be had 35 miles up or down the river. The road spirals downward in a figure 8, descending 600 feet and never getting off a 40-acre tract of land.

The following car line diagrams will aid you greatly in following the progress of your car to any point in the city if you will only master them.

Refer below to the diagram of the AB or Alberta line.

The streets in black face type (reading down the column), as Second, Flanders, Third, Oregon, Union, Alberta, and E. 30th are the streets on which car runs outbound from one end of line to other.

The streets in light face type following streets in black face type are the streets crossed by car while running on streets in black face type.

The column of figures are numbers along street on which car is running and at which intersecting streets cross.

Now in going from other end of line on the return trip, read from bottom of column to top, using only the black face street name appearing in parenthesis to indicate street on which car is running. Thus on the return trip the Alberta car runs on (starting at foot of column and in parenthesis) E. 30th, Alberta, Union, Oregon, and Third, the cross streets remaining the same.

DIAGRAM ILLUSTRATING STREET NUMBER SYSTEM

OUR STREET NUMBER SYSTEM.

Provides only 20 numbers to the block, requiring 5 city blocks for 100 numbers—a fact well to bear in mind if you intend to walk.

Even numbers on east and south sides of streets.

Odd numbers on west and north sides of streets.

The Diagram at top page divides Portland into 6 sections. Sections 1 and 2 comprise the west side.

Ankeny Street, between sections 1 and 2, is the starting point for numbering streets running north and south on the west side, the number at Ankeny being 1.

That part of 16th street in section 1 and south of Ankeny is known as 16th street—no prefix or suffix being used.

That part of 16th street in section 2 and north of Ankeny is known as 16th street North, the suffix N being added.

Sections 4 and 5 comprise the Central East side.

East Ankeny street between sections 4 and 5 is the starting point for numbering streets running north and south on the east side, the number at E. Ankeny being 1.

That part of 16th street in section 5 and south of E. Ankeny is known as E. 16th street, the prefix E being added, but no suffix.

That part of 16th street in section 4 and north of E. Ankeny is known as E. 16th street North, the prefix E and the suffix N being added.

The river is the starting point for numbering streets running east and west.

Streets running east and west in sections 1 and 2, comprising the West side, number beginning at the river west.

Streets running east and west in sections 4 and 5 comprising the East side, number beginning at the river east.

Observe in the diagram that the river bends to the left just above Ankeny street, necessitating a new starting point for numbering streets running east and west in sections 3 and most of section 4.

Interstate Ave. is the new starting point.

That part of Lombard street east of Interstate in section 4 is known as Lombard street East, though usually the suffix E is not used.

That part of Lombard street west of Interstate in section 3 is known as Lombard street West, the suffix W being used.

No streets on the west side have "W," either as a prefix or suffix.

Section 6, known as the Woodstock-Mt. Scott district, has a street name and numbering system of its own.

All streets in section 6, south of Division, running east and west are numeral avenues S. E., as 25th Ave. S. E., 26th Ave. S. E., etc., with 100 numbers to the block.

All streets in section 6 east of 41st running north and south are numeral streets S. E., as 41st St. S. E., 42d St. S. E., etc., with 100 numbers to the block.

The addition of the suffix S. E. either to street or avenue indicates that it is in section 6.

4500 50th St. S. E. would be at the intersection of 50th St. S. E. and 45th Ave. S. E.

4500 50th Ave. S. E. would be at the intersection of 50th Ave. S. E. and 45th St. S. E.

The St. Johns district—our newly annexed territory north of the 5-mile circle in northwest corner of large map, has 100 numbers to the block. Extreme care must be exercised in this district as the streets having E. and W. prefixes are more nearly north and south. While streets having "N" and "S" prefixes are more nearly east and west.

Jersey street is the starting point for numbering streets running east and west (but in reality running nearer north and south). Burlington street is the starting point for numbering streets running north and south (but in reality running nearer east and west).

EXPLANATION OF STREET AND STREET CAR REFERENCE PLAN IN FOLLOWING STREET DIAGRAMS.

All streets appear under their main initial letter or figure.

Under the letter W will be found Washington street below which appears East Washington street.

Likewise in the numerical street list on page 177 will be found 1st street, 1st street N., then E. 1st street and E. 1st street N. The plan being to have all streets appear in one place under initial letter of main name, ignoring designating prefix. Select Alberta as shown on page 51.

1st. ALBERTA ST. in bold type at head of column is the name of the title street.

2d. (G-4) following ALBERTA ST. is the reference to large accompanying map. Lines drawn from letter G and figure 4 in border of map will cross in vicinity of Alberta Street. The red dotted lines on map indicate the section lines of the city and are also used to find streets more easily. Streets that are too short to allow the name printed in, are designated by an encircled number. Example. Avalon (70) H-8, an encircled 70 will be found in square H-8.

3d. Initial Street. Certain streets on which car lines run have been selected as initial streets from which to locate other streets.

4th. The direction of street is given as east from starting point, consequently Alberta street must run east and west.

5th. The column of figures under Alberta street is composed of numbers on Alberta street at which intersecting streets cross Alberta.

6th. The column of street names under Alberta street starting from Interstate and ending at E. 33d are the streets crossing Alberta from one end to other.

7th. The number 1047 at end of 4th line below Alberta street is the number at which Alberta crosses all intersecting streets. Suppose you are walking along E. 10th or any other street crossing Alberta—by noting the street number at the point where you are, subtracting it from 1047 and then dividing by 20, the numbers allowed to each block, you will approximate the number of blocks you will have to walk.

Street Car References.

8th. The street car references are given on the theory that a car either crosses, runs on or runs parallel to Alberta street.

If a car crosses Alberta street the car line sign appears in black type in parenthesis after the street on which it crosses. or example (MA) crosses Alberta street running on Albina avenue. (WA), (SJ) cross Alberta street running on Williams avenue while (W-L) crosses Alberta street running on Union avenue.

If a car runs on Alberta street, the car line sign appears in black face type and is repeated, down the column. For example, the AB car runs on Alberta street from Union avenue to E. 30th.

If a car runs parallel to Alberta street the car line sign appears in light face type and is repeated with the direction to go and number of blocks. For example SJ (in light face type) runs parallel to Alberta street from Interstate to Williams, giving directions to go as south, and number of blocks as 4.

Example: Locate 415 Alberta street and how to get there.

Run down column of figures under Alberta street to number 415 after which appears E. 6th, your nearest cross street. After E. 6th appears AB in black face type, indicating that the Alberta car runs on Alberta street past your number at E. 6th street.

Now locate 375 in column of figures after which appears Union avenue. Following this (W-L) (black face type in parenthesis) indicating that the Woodlawn car crosses Alberta street running on Union avenue. Now if the W-L crosses Alberta street at 375, by getting off at Alberta and walking down the column as it were to E. 6th (a distance of two blocks) you again have your street and number, 415 Alberta.

Now turn to Abernathy street on page 49. Run down column of figures to 215, just below which appears a line. This line indicates that street is not open at that point and that it is necessary to make a detour to 10th street where you again strike Abernathy.

If the publisher has succeeded in making her explanation clear, you will be able from your diagram of Alberta street to ascertain the following points:

Location of street on map.

Direction of street.

Starting and stopping points of street.

The number at which Alberta street crosses all intersecting streets.

The numbers at which all intersecting streets cross Alberta.

The intersecting streets as they come.

The cars that cross, run on, or run parallel to your street.

The streets on which they cross, the distance they run on, or parallel to, with the direction to go and number of blocks.

Whether a street is open throughout its entire length.
